11. Gautama Buddha taught Kisa Gotami that life and death are part and parcel of life. No one can avoid this truth. Whoever has come into this earth will die one day. Thus, in the hour of grief at the death of beloved one, one must remain calm. However, persons who are wise never complain or lament over their loss. They accept the truth and overcome their sorrow. So, wisdom is in the fact that people should not get distressed with pain, suffering and death.
12. The real name of Bholi was Sulekha. Since her childhood everyone had been calling her Bholi, the simpleton. She had fallen off the cot when she was ten months old. Perhaps, it had damaged some part of her brain. She had small pox as well during her childhood and her face was disfigured by pock marks. Bholi also used to stammer. She was neither wise nor beautiful. But her education changed her personality.
